The "Faultless" bicycle is built by one of the oldest sewing machine concerns in the United States; it's built with the same care, the same detailed perfection for which their sewing machines are noted the world over.

It's a very recent departure, this manufacturing of bicycles by these people, and from an economic point of view, a very good thing for our public.

County Melange

DOYLESTOWN.

Not in a long time has there been so much interest evinced in politics here as has been occasioned by the public announcement of Assemblymen Winner, Wilkinson and Edwards to the effect that they are prepared to represent Bucks County as delegates to the State Convention. Had a firebrand been thrown into the Quay camp the followers of the ex-Senator could not have been more effectually aroused. To say that they were indignant does not describe the situation. Within twelve hours after the letter of the Assemblymen appeared in print communications were flying all over the county.

Even the friends of the Assemblymen were staggered for a time; at least those who comprehended the real significance of the position they had taken. The ardent Anti Quay men looked merely at the surface of things, and could see nothing wrong in the course pursued by the Harrisburg representatives. Within the past few days, however, matters have changed somewhat. The Quay men instead of throwing obstacles in the path of the Assemblymen have suddenly quieted down. It is a dangerous sort of calm, however, of the kind that sometimes prevails about innumerable when fire is reserved until the enemy comes within close range. In other words the Quays are just loaded for big game and all they fear is that the Assemblymen will be persuaded to pull out of the race. This would seem to imply that the Quay men feel confident that Bucks County is a Quay county, but that is not the case. They do feel confident, however, that with these few particular candidates in the field they could win a sweeping victory.

There are various reasons for this. One is the tone of the communication addressed to the public. Many Republicans who are not very much exercised either way in the matter of Quay's downfall or return to power declare that there is a "holier than thou" atmosphere about the legislative document which they do not like. Others aver that the Assemblymen are entirely too presumptuous in saying that there has been a demand for their services as State delegates. The Quay men are banking on the support of these conservative members of the party. They also feel that the regulars in their own ranks will stand together as one man in opposition to the three candidates, especially in the case of Wilkinson, who is charged with violating the promises, or rather with misrepresenting his position on the Quay question before his election.

It must be said in all fairness that even some of the Anti-Quay men here question the wisdom of the course pursued by the Assemblymen. There are here and there men so bitterly opposed to Quay that they advise a fight regardless of consequences. In this instance "consequences," in the opinion of every unprejudiced man, means not only defeat of the Assemblymen for re-election but a placing in jeopardy of the whole county ticket next fall. Some of the most bitter Anti-Quay men are in favor of settling the whole matter in the manner described. The more conservative members of the party feel, however, that a fight under the conditions described will surely end in ignominious defeat for them without giving them a chance to show their real following in the county. Therefore the preponderance of sentiment would seem to be in favor of a compromise to save the county ticket and incidentally to give the Anti Quays a better chance to wage war in future. Just how this compromise would be effected had not been determined up to the hour this letter was written.

The Quay people will put up the strongest kind of a fight against the Assemblymen if they do not pull out. Already the names of such staunch Quays as Hon. Robert M. Yardley and District Attorney John C. Swartley have been mentioned as candidates from the Middle District. Charles G. Knight, of Southampton, has been discussed for the Lower end, but his friends say he will again be a candidate for a county office, and will not be inclined to make enemies on either side. Mr. Knight has been spending a day or two in the county seat and has discussed the matter with his friends. Another Lower end citizen talked about as a strong candidate is Joseph R. Grundy, of Bristol.

However, this is assuming that the Assemblymen would not withdraw. It was pretty generally understood among Doylestown politicians on Monday evening that they would abandon the project. In fact an announcement to that effect was looked for at any hour, and it will be very surprising if it does not take place before this communication is published. This determination was reached after a consultation among the cooler heads in both factions, the Anti-Quays recognizing that they would gain absolutely nothing by continuing the fight, while they would also bear all the odium of having brought about a most bitter party fight. One interesting feature of the matter was the mystery that surrounded the affair. It was almost universally conceded to be bad politics, and the fact that Dave Marvin is credited with being the instigator of the scheme shows how little that otherwise astute politician knows about the situation in this county. Captain Edwards is regarded as Martin's chief assistant in this comedy of errors.

Another political matter of interest to the people of this county, both Republicans and Democrats, is the candidacy of Judge Yerkes for the Supreme Court. A great many people feel that the Democratic party would do a very sensible thing in nominating Judge Yerkes. They would like to see him elevated to the Supreme Court. There is no doubt but that Judge Yerkes would be highly pleased to secure the honor. The matter of his successor here is even discussed. It is believed that in case Judge Yerkes should be the choice of his party Henry Lear, Esq., would become his successor as President Judge of the courts of this county. Mr. Lear is probably the most studious of the members of his profession considering all branches of the law, in addition to which he has little taste for politics, which would be to his advantage.

The Doylestown Trust Company, receiver of the Bucks County Railway Company, whose line extends from Doylestown to Willow Grove, has asked the Court for a decree authorizing the receiver company to issue certificates to meet certain expenses involved in operating the road. The matter was argued before Judge Yerkes on Tuesday. The first amount asked for was $12,000, but upon hearing the testimony of the contractor in relation to what would be needed in the way of improvements and additional equipment this summer, the amount named was increased to $25,000. The matter was held under advisement by the court. It is anticipated that there will be an immense amount of travel over the road during the coming season.

The Directors of the Poor, the County Commissioners and local Board of Visitors appointed by the court, met at the Bucks County Home on Tuesday to consider the matter of repairing the old Almshouse building. The consensus of opinion seemed to be that a new roof was needed, and also new floors. It is evident that very expensive and elaborate repairs will not be advised. The Commissioners instructed an architect to prepare plans of such repairs as were suggested.

Rev. R. M. Laharee, who was recently elected pastor of the Doylestown Presbyterian Church, has notified the Session that he will accept the call and will come here on May 7. It is hoped by the friends of the church that Rev. Mr. Laharee will be cordially received by those who opposed his election in order that the rather bitter feeling engendered may subside, as the church has an immense congregation and has long been without a pastor.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has a large force of men at work at the present time, opening up a new driveway from Smith street to the new freight station near the tile works.

Work is being rapidly pushed on the new fence to enclose the ball grounds here, and the contractors, Messrs. Haldeman & Meirs, will have everything in shape for the opening game on May 6.

TULLYTOWN.

On Saturday evening the members and friends of the M. E. Church assembled in the basement of the church to greet the pastor, Rev. Francis Hawke, upon his return from Conference to renew his labors for the church here. Mr. Hawke greeted a large number of people who congratulated him upon his return, and he will commence his second year of pastoral work here with a congregation united in his support. The outlook for the coming year in the church is encouraging, and the community will continue to experience the benefits of the labors of this Christian gentleman. Mr. Hawke has endeavored himself to the people of this place, both within the congregation and outside, by his cordially and uniform kindness to all. Under his pastorate the church has prospered, and the social features of church work have received an impetus not experienced in the congregation hitherto.

The pastor desires to express in this column his thanks for the kind greetings and very pleasant reception given last Saturday evening by the members and friends of the congregation.

The efforts of the early drivers for shad were rewarded on the night of Monday, the 27th inst., when Messrs. White and Farr landed the first shad of the season. Should the weather continue warm it is believed that in another week the shad run will have begun in earnest, and the fishers will be fishing that will be productive of many shad and the resultant dollars, rather than the proverbial fisherman's luck which has prevailed up to the present time.

The "Euchre Club" held its bi-weekly meeting last Saturday evening at the residence of Dr. C. H. Head. In addition to the usual visitors of Tullytown "veterans" there were several visitors, Miss Nellie V. Birch, Dr. Frank P. Connor and Dr. W. C. Work, of Philadelphia, and Morton Kent, of Penn Valley. The prize winners were Mrs. Stanfield Smith, Miss Mary Harper, Harry Simpson and Mrs. O. P. Chamberlain.

At the M. E. Church next Sunday morning the pastor will preach on "The Resurrection," and the children of the Sunday school will receive their regular Easter treat in the afternoon. It is probable that the customary Easter programme will be postponed until April 9.

Last Saturday evening a stranger by the name of Desmond while passing through the town was seized with a cataplectic attack and was cared for by the borough authorities until Tuesday morning, when a purse was made up by some of the residents, and he was placed on the boat to go to his home in Baltimore.

Amos B. Headley is building an addition to his home on Main street. In addition to enlarging his residence Mr. Headley will erect a wind pump which will supply hot and cold water throughout the house and install a new drainage plant.

At the Christian Church next Sunday the pastor, Rev. William J. Wright, will preach a sermon appropriate to the day, his topic being "Easter Views."

John Burton, Jr., has purchased a number of shade trees, which he will set out about his residence and elsewhere along the streets of the borough.

Messrs. Joseph Davis and William Hillborn will take charge of Dr. Tallman's farm during the coming season.

Easek Lovett has purchased the Sands property on Main street, and will occupy it as a store and residence.

Headley Woolston, the popular young violinist, assisted at an entertainment in Millstone, N. J., last week.

PENN'S MANOR.

For two weeks the farmers here have been very busy hauling manure from Tullytown to the cure.

William D. Irvin has moved back on his farm near Pennington, N. J. He is going to run it himself this year.

Joseph Robbins, Sr., is going to quit farming. He held a closing out sale on Monday last which drew a great crowd of people.

D. S. Mershan has the contract to build a new barn for William Mershan on the farm of the late Benjamin G. Morris, deceased.

James Harboure has been down with typhoid fever for two weeks and for the past two or three days he has been very low with little hopes of recovery.

The entertainment in the chapel on last Thursday evening was a grand success. The seats were all occupied and some of the people even had to stand up.

It is announced that the Ladies' Aid Society contemplates giving an oyster supper for the benefit of the chapel on Saturday evening, April 1st. All are welcome. Ice cream and other confectionery in abundance.

E. R. Saylor has shipped the most of the tobacco which he purchased here to D. R. Saylor, Lancaster. If any other buyer expects to get any of the 1898 crop he will have to make a stir soon as there are very few cases left.

The Doylestown Trust Company, receiver of the Bucks County Railway Company, whose line extends from Doylestown to Willow Grove, has asked the Court for a decree authorizing the receiver company to issue certificates to meet certain expenses involved in operating the road. The matter was argued before Judge Yerkes on Tuesday. The first amount asked for was $12,000, but upon hearing the testimony of the contractor in relation to what would be needed in the way of improvements and additional equipment this summer, the amount named was increased to $25,000. The matter was held under advisement by the court. It is anticipated that there will be an immense amount of travel over the road during the coming season.

The Directors of the Poor, the County Commissioners and local Board of Visitors appointed by the court, met at the Bucks County Home on Tuesday to consider the matter of repairing the old Almshouse building. The consensus of opinion seemed to be that a new roof was needed, and also new floors. It is evident that very expensive and elaborate repairs will not be advised. The Commissioners instructed an architect to prepare plans of such repairs as were suggested.

Rev. R. M. Laharee, who was recently elected pastor of the Doylestown Presbyterian Church, has notified the Session that he will accept the call and will come here on May 7. It is hoped by the friends of the church that Rev. Mr. Laharee will be cordially received by those who opposed his election in order that the rather bitter feeling engendered may subside, as the church has an immense congregation and has long been without a pastor.

TULLYTOWN.

On Saturday evening the members and friends of the M. E. Church assembled in the basement of the church to greet the pastor, Rev. Francis Hawke, upon his return from Conference to renew his labors for the church here. Mr. Hawke greeted a large number of people who congratulated him upon his return, and he will commence his second year of pastoral work here with a congregation united in his support. The outlook for the coming year in the church is encouraging, and the community will continue to experience the benefits of the labors of this Christian gentleman. Mr. Hawke has endeavored himself to the people of this place, both within the congregation and outside, by his cordially and uniform kindness to all. Under his pastorate the church has prospered, and the social features of church work have received an impetus not experienced in the congregation hitherto.

The pastor desires to express in this column his thanks for the kind greetings and very pleasant reception given last Saturday evening by the members and friends of the congregation.

The efforts of the early drivers for shad were rewarded on the night of Monday, the 27th inst., when Messrs. White and Farr landed the first shad of the season. Should the weather continue warm it is believed that in another week the shad run will have begun in earnest, and the fishers will be fishing that will be productive of many shad and the resultant dollars, rather than the proverbial fisherman's luck which has prevailed up to the present time.

The "Euchre Club" held its bi-weekly meeting last Saturday evening at the residence of Dr. C. H. Head. In addition to the usual visitors of Tullytown "veterans" there were several visitors, Miss Nellie V. Birch, Dr. Frank P. Connor and Dr. W. C. Work, of Philadelphia, and Morton Kent, of Penn Valley. The prize winners were Mrs. Stanfield Smith, Miss Mary Harper, Harry Simpson and Mrs. O. P. Chamberlain.

The announcement of Messrs. Winner, Wilkinson and Edwards, made in last week's GAZETTE, that they were candidates for State delegates, has caused a greater political discussion than has any kindred subject for some years.
Setting to one side, for the moment, our views as to the wisdom of the determination of the Assemblymen, in truth it must be said, after a careful canvass of the situation, that from the candidates' own standpoint, we believe that their candidacy will turn out to be a disastrous undertaking. We can readily comprehend the motive which inspired the Assemblymen to reach their decision. They have been acting in a manner in connection with the Senatorial contest which they believe receives the moral sanction of a majority of their constituents. They have received hundreds of letters commending their action. At the same time they have been besieged with petitions asking them to change their tactics and vote for Col. Quay. Being men who undoubtedly have no personal interest in the election of a Senator beyond voicing the sentiment of the county, they conceived the idea of submitting the doubtful problem for solution, which was mainly, and therefore commendable, and would receive strong endorsement under different conditions. The members have now right to announce themselves as had one or two men to pick out delegates upon other occasions. But it is a condition and not a theory which has to be reckoned with today.
The fact is the candidacy of Messrs. Winner, Wilkinson and Edwards has been received in an unexpected manner. The very people whom it was calculated to please shake their heads. The Quay people, who ordinarily would have entered into a peaceable contest, assumed a belligerent attitude at once, expressing eagerness for the fray and threaten dire results. The anti Quays, who compose the more conservative element of the party, realize that their cause will not be fairly presented in such a contest; that the primary question will become entirely ignored in the bitter personal fight which will follow.
The position assumed by these who oppose the candidacy of Messrs. Winner, Wilkinson and Edwards is that nothing has been done which impels them to seek repulsion. No one has interrupted their course at Harrisburg. The anti Quay element surely must feel perfectly satisfied with the constant voting for John Dalzell; there is no possible advantage in it for them to urge a nothing-to-be-gained contest. The ones who would be naturally supposed to be desirous of provoking a contest would be the Quaysites who feel aggrieved because they fully expected that two of the Bucks county delegation would vote for the return of Senator Quay and were disappointed.
But they displayed no disposition to plunge the party into a factional contest because things did not go their way. No Quayite called any of the members to account.
Another argument used against the candidacy of the Assemblymen for State delegates is that they have just been elected to high office by the people and that it would be at least becoming to not stand in the way of someone else seeking the honor.
It is apparent that neither faction has invited a test of strength at this time, and both elements seem to be adverse to bringing on unnecessary conflict, which can have no other effect than leaving the party in such a disrupted condition that the whole Republican ticket would be placed in jeopardy at the next election. If Bucks were a strong Republican county the strain of dissension arising from the factional contest would not materially effect the result of the fall election. But such is not the case. The county has but lately been drawn into the Republican fold, and the parties are nearly equally divided in strength at the present time, and the utmost harmony must prevail within the ranks and among the leaders to maintain Republican supremacy. From the information received it is believed that such will be the case if Messrs. Winner, Wilkinson and Edwards insist upon a fight—a fight it is bound to be.
Without any attempt to coerce or unduly influence the announced candidates, in the light of the antagonism they have already incurred, in justice to the party, to the members themselves and to the cause they represent, we deem it advisable for them to enter into an honorable and satisfactory adjustment of differences which will entail no loss of dignity on their part. A compromise can be effected which will redound to the personal credit and political strength of the members, and promote harmony and satisfaction in both factions.
We have always entertained a desire to have the Quay question thoroughly tested in this county, but it is now firmly believed that it cannot be had through the instrumentality of the candidacy of the Assemblymen for State delegates. Under the rules which govern such an election it is required that the delegates shall be chosen at a mass convention which shall be held in Doylestown, so the proposition will resolve itself into one in which cold cash will be the determining factor, as the side which gets the most men into Doyle-town on convention day will be declared the winner of the contest. The party will suffer from the effects of the intestine warfare and the verdict will not be accepted by the majority of the Republicans who will be unable to take a day off and attend the convention.
Those who have the welfare of the party at heart are perfectly willing to submit to any equitable settlement. It has been suggested that, in the interest of harmony, the Quay faction will agree upon a compromise whereby a delegation shall be elected consisting of two anti- and one Quay members.
Messrs. Edwards, Winner and Wilkinson are our personally esteemed friends, and we would not advise them to do anything in this matter which would result to their disadvantage, and inasmuch as we have always counted a test of the Quay and anti-Quay strength in this county, and firmly believe that under the present circumstances a contest would result in favor of the Quay faction, for the higher interest we have for the supremacy of the Republican party in Bucks county, we earnestly, candidly and honestly advise Messrs. Winner, Wilkinson and Edwards to submit to a compromise which will detract nothing from their reputation as men who are guided by worthy influences. It will be no back-down for them it will be a respectful obedience to a will which seeks to do them no injury.
It is alleged that John Wasserman has spent $20,000 within his year in the effort to usurp the position occupied by Colonel M. S. Quay. The mere he spends the more soonily he is crushed.

A Close Corporation.
The remarkable "cohesive" qualities possessed by the Bucks County Assemblymen have attracted the attention of the newspaper correspondents at Harrisburg.
The Philadelphia Record, who by the way is an old friend of Captain Edwards, pokes a little fun at our members, as follows: Personal chit-chat at the Capital finds among many other interesting subjects the remarkable adherence of the three Bucks County Representatives—Messrs. Edwards, Wilkinson and Winner—to one another.
They step in one upon of the Commonwealth Gold. They vote for Dalzell for United States Senator and are of one mind on legislation generally. Messrs. Wilkinson and Winner acknowledge Captain Edwards as the leader of all the Bucks "ants" at home as well as in Harrisburg. The Captain's continued refusal to meet people who have asked many substantial tips on the Delaware above Philadelphia.
If one of the Bucks County trio ate a meal when the others were not at the table he would get judicious. A walk for exercise would do no two men who have accompanied by the other—in fact, if a Harrington saw one of them alone he would conclude that the Senatorial deadlock must have been broken or that the two others were in some way connected with the same anti-Quay Republic for United States Senator. All three announce themselves as candidates to represent Bucks against Quayism in the approaching Republican State Convention.
Passion Pictures.
Last evening at St. Paul's Mission William V. Leech gave a stereoscopic exhibition and lecture to the Sunday school scholars upon the crucifixion of Christ. The views were admirable and portrayed most vividly the scenes on that occasion. A number of views illustrating the parables of Christ, taken from noted statuary, were also shown.
A Lodge Visitation.
Enterprise Council, of Union, and Morrisville Council, of Morrisville, will pay a fraternal visit to Fidelity Council, No. 21, Fr. O. U. A. M., this evening. The visiting brethren will be met at the station by the guards and members of Fidelity Council and to the strains of inspiring music will march to the council hall. The business of the council will be transacted and all will adjourn to the room below where a sumptuous collation will be served. Various toasts will be responded to by different members of the council and the graphophone will contribute its share to the evening's enjoyment.
Sunday School Officers.
The annual election of officers of the Presbyterian Sunday School was held on last Thursday evening when the following persons were chosen for the ensuing year:

Assistant Supt.; Miss Ellen C. Vauxem, Treasurer; Julia M. Shaak, M. D., Secretary; Miss Mary W. Swan, Assistant Secretary; Jesse O. Thomas, Librarian; Oscar Boon and Joseph Swain, Jr., assistants; Mrs.

BASKET BALL GAMES.
Trenton Coming to Bristol.
The Trenton National League basket ball team will play the Bristol first team at the risk on next Tuesday evening, April 4, and it is expected that a large crowd will be in attendance to witness this contest as the visitors are equal to any team in the league and are now in first position. They have been defeated but three times and will undoubtedly make it very interesting for our boys. The second teams will also play.
Millville's Crack Quintette Defeated By Bristol by the Score of 14 to 8.
SNOW AND JOHNSON WIN THE GAME BY THEIR PERSONAL SHOOTING—THE VISITORS OUT-PLAYED AT EVERY POINT—NINETEEN SEVEN HUNDRED PEOPLE WITNESSED THE CONTEST—THE GAME IN DETAIL.
About seven hundred people were in attendance at the rink on last Monday evening to witness the great game of basket ball between the Bristol first team and the great Millville National League quintette and the result was a signal victory for the home team, the score being 14 to 8.
The Bristol team was in a crippled condition which accounted in a measure for the slowness of the first half. Snow and Crisp put up an excellent game of team work in this half. Bombhoff started the scoring for the visitors and had our boys guessing for a while but Snow came to the rescue and made a goal, thus tying the score. It was not a tie very long, however, as Bombhoff came to the front and captured another goal.
Johnson ended things up again by making a clean shot from the field. Bristol began to rest more easily when 10, and behold, the invincible Bombhoff scored for the third time, but Snow promptly followed suit and at the call of time the score was 6-6.
In the second half the home team outplayed the visitors at every point and made goals so fast that the Millville people could not control themselves and lost the game by the score of 14 to 8. Johnson and Plant excelled for Bristol, and Bombhoff and Adams did the best work for the visitors. During the second half Smith, of the Bristol team, made a pretty goal by throwing the ball over his head backwards and was heartily applauded.
Millville is considered the fastest team in the National League, being tied with Trenton for the championship, and Bristol deserves much credit for defeating them as it will be remembered that upon the home team's visit to Millville in the early part of the season they suffered defeat by a very large score.
The Bristol team is now one of, if not the strongest team in the East, having defeated all the big teams in the country, among them being Millville, Bridgeton, Camden, Hancock, Conshohocken, Penn Wheelmen, etc.
The sporting fraternity of Bristol should show their appreciation of Manager Smith's pursuing such good games by being present on next Tuesday evening when Trenton will be here, as these teams command an enormous price.
The line-up of the first teams:

The Passion Play.
The reproduction of the "Passion Play" at the risk by the cinegraph on last Friday evening was a flattering success in every particular, and some of the pictures were so life-like that it was almost impossible to believe that they were mere photographs. The scene representing the Last Supper was very beautiful and lasted for about five minutes, the film being over four hundred feet long.
Some very good war pictures were shown as a prelude to the "Passion Play." On Saturday evening the closing pictures of the cinegraph concert were very good, representing pathos and humor in all styles.
The entertainment was given under the aegis of the Foresters. It is very probable that the "Passion Play" will be repeated in this borough some time during the latter part of April, and if such is the case we would advise every one to go and see the wonderful biblical pictures.

Secretary Alger in planning the destruction

Grain-O Brings Relief To the coffee drinker. Coffee drinking is a habit that is universally indulged in and almost as universally injurious. Have you tried Grain-O? It is almost like coffee but the effects are just the opposite. Coffee up-sets the stomach, ruins the digestion, effectually kills and disturbs the whole system.
Grain-O tones up the stomach, aids digestion and strengthens the nerves. 15c and 25c, per package.
Coal.
Coal business appears to continue good judging by the appearance of W. F. Leedson's team upon an over-street. Our citizens soon learn where to buy good coal and continue to patronize that dealer.

An Excellent Combination.
The pleasant method and beneficial effects of the well known remedy, SYRUP OF FIGS, manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO., place the value of obtaining the liquid laxative principles of plants known to be medicinally laxative and presenting them in the form most refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system. It is the one perfect strengthening laxative, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers quickly and promptly and enabling one to overcome habitual constipation permanently. Its perfect freedom from every objectionable quality and substance, and its acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels, without weakening or irritating them, make it the ideal laxative.
In the process of manufacturing figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste, but the medicinal qualities of the remedy are obtained from senna and other aromatic plants, by a method known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only. In order to get its beneficial effects and to avoid imitations, please remember the full name of the Company printed on the front of every package.
